

Primary Care Alliance
Terms of Reference

Mandate:

The Primary Care Alliance (PCA) provides the forum for the unified voice of primary care physicians in the consideration of issues within primary care. A representative from each of the AMA's Sections of General Practice and Rural Medicine, the PCN Physician Leads, ACFP and the Departments of Family Medicine form the alliance to advance their common interests and shared goals.

The PCA:

- Coordinates activities and provides advice to member constituent bodies when requested,
- Ensures alignment of activities as appropriate and where required,
- Discusses issues and activities related to primary care,
- Oversees specific projects that are mutually beneficial and have been approved by its constituent organizations, and
- Is resourced through contributions from its constituent organizations.

The PCA will not undertake any actions or communications on behalf of the constituent organizations without clear direction of the collective expectations and sponsorship of those organizations.

Authority:

The PCA is delegated authority and responsibility from and through its member constituents for specific activities and defined projects ensuring that each organization retains its individual identity and internal resources and controls.

Activities:

- Discuss issues and provide advice to the appropriate constituent bodies.
- Align and support joint communication with constituent bodies, when so directed.
- Review and advise where the constituent bodies deem appropriate and necessary, issues affecting primary care physicians.
- Identify policy needs, broad objectives and seek alignment and coordination among constituent organizations.
- Serve as a forum for external stakeholders to raise awareness of issues or opportunities that may have broad impact on primary care physicians.
- Provide regular updates and status reports on PCA related activities to the constituent organizations.
- Perform annual self-review and provide results to the constituent organizations.

PCA Meeting Chair:

The meeting Chair shall be the facilitator of the meeting processes, including:

- Organizing the work and information requirements of the PCA into a structured meeting agenda;
- Keeping the meeting on track with the agenda and process checks to meet objectives;
- Ensuring that adequate participation/discussion is full and equal, and
- Reaching decisions and actions from collaboration and consensus.

Composition:

- AMA SGP President or designate
- AMA SRM President or designate
- AMA Board representative
- PCN Leads Executive Chair or designate
- ACFP President or designate
- Department of Family Medicine (U of A/C) representative

Resources:

- Administrative support shall be provided through a budgeting and approval process of and by the Alberta Medical Association.
- Financial support for projects and activities shall be through a budgeting and approval process of and by the constituent organizations.

Evaluation:

The PCA will complete an annual self- evaluation.

Meetings:

There will be approximately 8-10 meetings scheduled annually.

Additional meetings may be called as the business of the PCA requires.
