

PIA CONSULTANTS LIST

TO PHYSICIANS AND THEIR TEAMS,

The AMA's Security, Privacy and Data Sharing (SPaDS) team would like to provide you with a list of privacy consultants who can assist your community-based clinic with privacy support and more specifically, Privacy Impact Assessment (PIA) development, if you choose to independently hire a consultant.

This resource was developed to help clinics in locating professionals in the privacy industry in a simple and consolidated way and to provide an overview of the PIA services these businesses can provide.

These consultants and companies are not endorsed by the AMA nor were they required to provide samples of their work as part of a vetting process.

This list was developed using answers provided to a questionnaire and then a series of criteria points were assigned based on:

- Education and certification
- Number of medical PIAs accepted by the OIPC
- Timelines for completing work
- Cost based on a price range scale
- Whether or not training is available
- Inclusion of other agreements
- Clinic resources and supports offered post-consultation

If you have any questions about the PIA Consultants List, please don't hesitate to contact us at PrivacySPaDS@albertadoctors.org.

PIA consultants wishing to be added to this list can email their requests to the same address, as the list will be updated frequently.

ABOUT SPADS

Security, Privacy and Data Sharing (SPaDS) is a project co-sponsored by the Alberta Medical Association and Alberta Health. With the aim to increase capacity for community clinics to provide the best security, privacy and data sharing practices, SPaDS' goal is to equip community clinics with the tools and knowledge they need to secure and prevent privacy breaches.

SELECTING A PIA CONSULTANT

STEPS FOR SELECTING A PIA CONSULTANT

1. Determine what support is needed with this Self-Assessment Tool.
2. Review the list of PIA consultants and relevant info.
*Note that the information provided by those on the list has not been vetted – it provides a starting point in your vendor selection process.
3. Speak to colleagues who have worked with a PIA consultant in the past as great service in the past is the best predictor of future success.
4. Interview a few PIA consultants and complete reference checks (ideally from community medical clinics), especially if the consultant was not referred by a colleague.
5. Select a PIA consultant who is best able to meet the needs you have identified in Step 1.
6. Agree on the terms of the service ahead of time – in writing is preferable (e.g. a service agreement)

QUESTIONS TO CONSIDER WHEN INTERVIEWING A PIA CONSULTANT

1. Do you do a comprehensive review of the clinic's security and privacy context? How is this done?
2. Do you work with clinic physicians or someone in the clinic to complete the PIA? How do you typically inform the whole team?
3. What are your timelines for completing a PIA?
4. What kind of training do you provide?
5. What other services do you (your company) provide in addition to the PIA? Does that cost more?
6. How much do your services cost? Please describe your cost structure.
7. Can you provide references of other physicians you've done PIA work for in Alberta?
